

MY MUMMIES

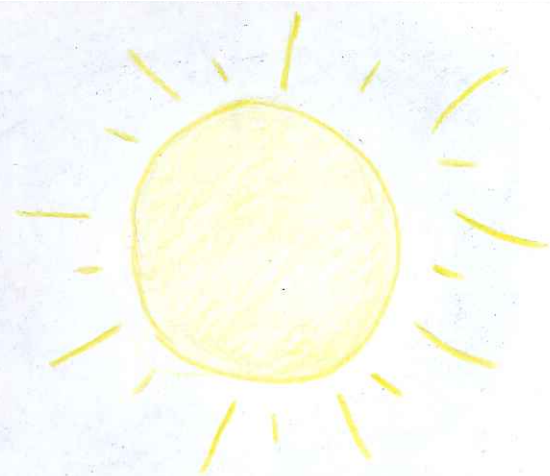

BY HELENA MANTZ

My Mummies

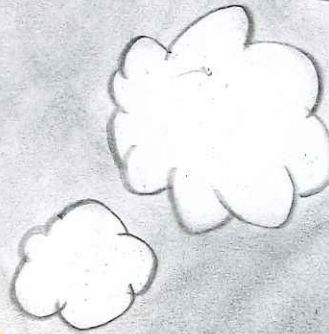

By Helena Mantz

I have the best two mummies in the world.
They love and look after me like I am their pearl.

But something upsets them that needs to change.
They are not allowed to marry because they are the same.

Why? Oh why! Did this have to happen? Well...

The evil king Lion said this to them.

"You are not good because you love the same hen."

My mummies had cried and cried over this.
Did the Lion not know that he stole their bliss?

TEAM 1

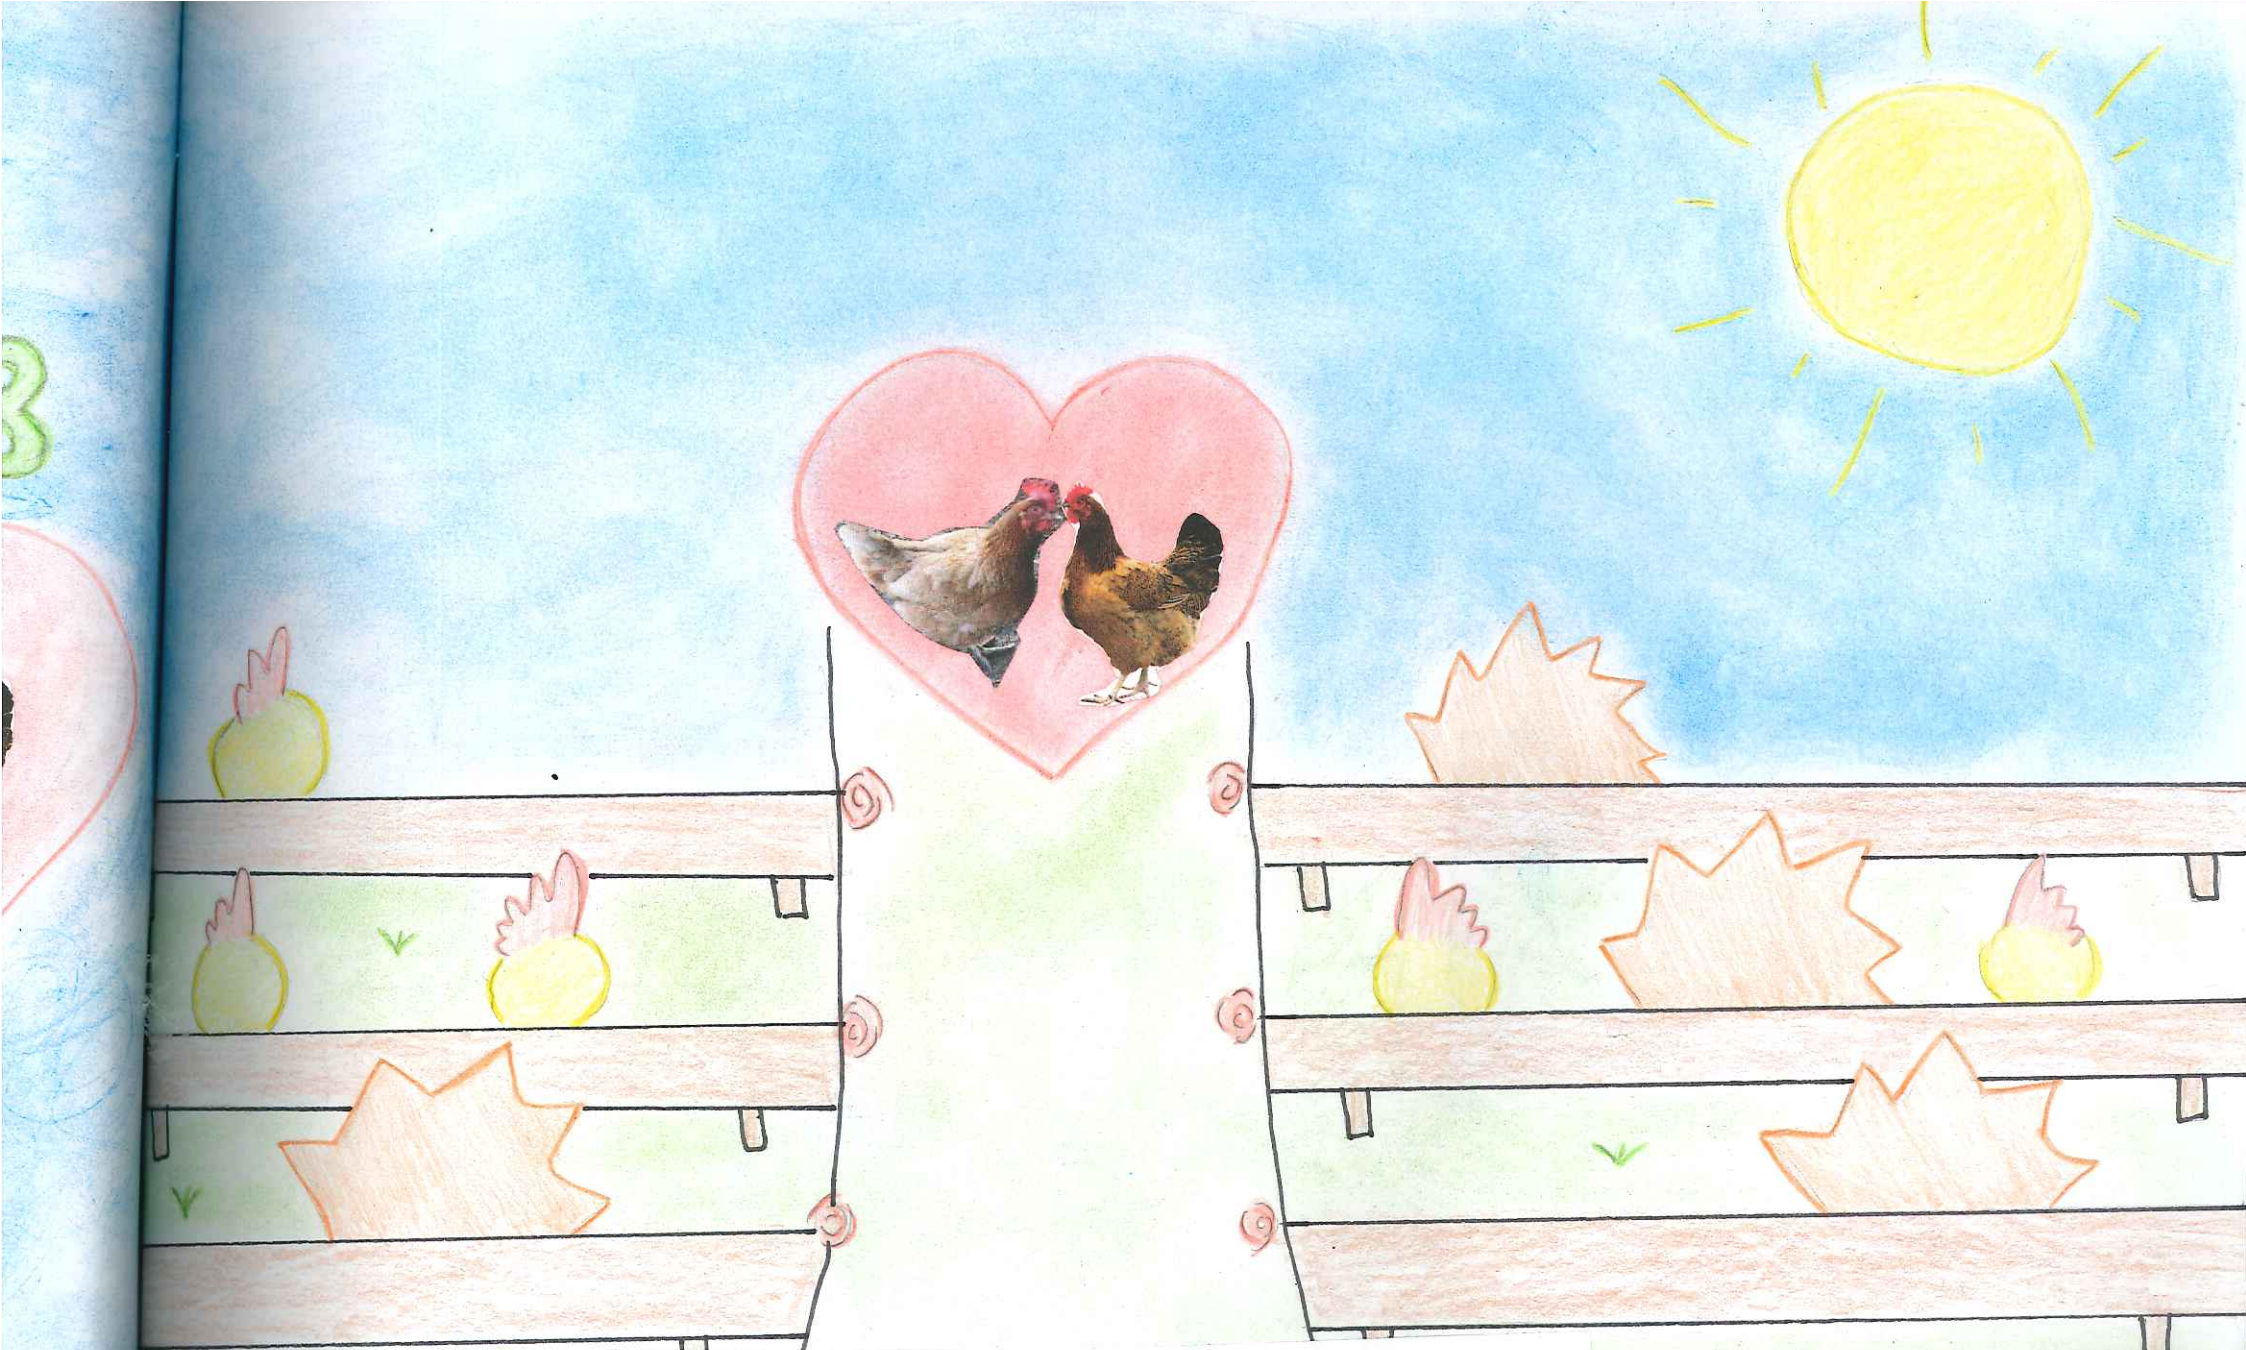

TEAM 2

TEAM 3

Hopefully soon the Lion will see,
that love can be pure no matter the team.

So every night I will now pray.
That my mummies can marry and have their big day.

THE END